

Weather Forecast

The weather changed during the day of the when they all went walking up the Cat Bells.

Use the weather symbols to help you to write the weather forecast for the different times of the day.

Morning

Lunchtime

Afternoon

Check your sentences:

Have you used capital letters and full stops?

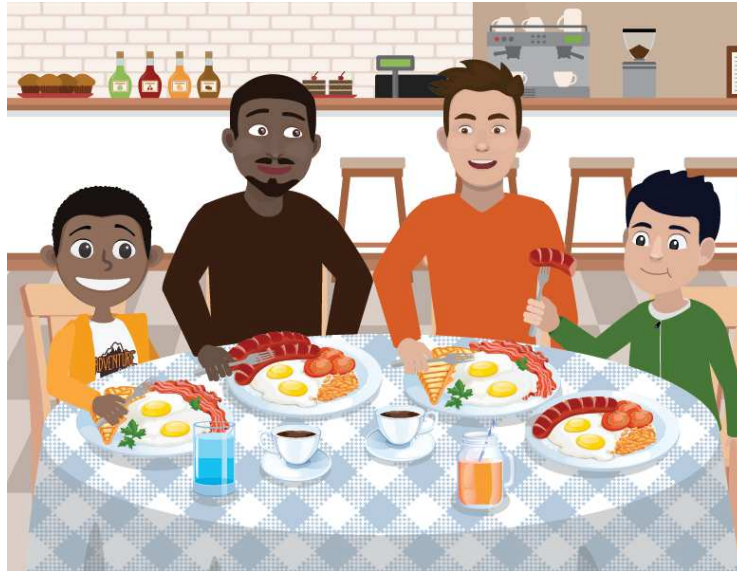

Missing punctuation

Read part of the story below.

There are 3 missing full stops and 12 missing CAPITAL LETTERS

Can you add them to the story?

the rest of the evening was spent packing their bags, putting everything that they needed into the back of the car and going over the route that they would be walking up the cat bells the following day josh was so excited, and he felt so grown up; he had never walked up a fell before it was soon time for bed, as they had a very early start the next day they had to meet ned and his dad at the fell walker café in time for breakfast and the start of the walk all josh could think about was the long walk as he tried hard to shut his eyes and get to sleep

Check your sentences:

Have you checked your sentences?

