True or False?

This week, we are looking at using the prefix un-.

Underline the 'un-' word and then put a circle around True or False for each of these sentences.

Unhappy is the opposite of tired.   True   False

When you turn a key to open a door, you unlock it.   True   False

Ripping somebody's book on purpose is very unkind.   True   False

To unload the shopping, a delivery man must throw the bags out of the van.   True   False

If you turn the lid of a jar, you can undo it.   True   False

Another way of saying poorly is 'unwell'.   True   False

Untidy means the same as neat.   True   False

You can unwrap a present on your birthday.   True   False